AQUATIC THERAPY PROGRAM

The aquatic therapy programs at Allcare have grown in popularity over the years because they offer patients who are unable or not ready to participate in land based programs an alternative to traditional physical therapy treatment. Because of the buoyancy and warmth of the water, it is simply much easier and less painful to move and exercise in aquatic therapeutic programs. Exercising in warm water relaxes muscles and essentially eliminates compressive loads on painful joints. Most patients are able to successfully transition to a land based program as their pain decreases and their functional capabilities improve.

"I was sent to physical therapy for a right pelvic fracture. When I first came to therapy I was having to use a walker. The pain in my pelvis drove me crazy. I began my therapy in the pool. The stairs were more difficult than you can imagine. Therapy has taught me that I need to exercise more often. The exercises have also helped with my arthritis. Now after my visits to therapy I am walking around without a cane! Getting in and out of the pool has become a breeze! Dan and the staff were wonderful. They were always kind and considerate. Thank you Allcare!"
